Please use this site to join or renew your ABLs membership, subscribe to The Bryologist and Evansia, manage your account information, or browse the member directory.

Navigate to the JOURNALS dropdown menu. Select either Evansia or Bryologist.

The Bryologist includes articles on all aspects of the biology of mosses, hornworts, liverworts and lichens; lists of current literature with world-wide coverage, book reviews; and news items about membership and events. The first issue of The Bryologist was published in 1898, with the formation of the society.

- Active ABLs members with a paid subscription to the Bryologist, please login to access the journal. Once logged in click " Read The Bryologist Online Now " below to view the online journal.
- ABLS no longer offers JSTOR access by sending membership lists. In July 2017, worked with Allen Press to move the ABLs access to referring URL. Members log in at this site and they should see a link back to JSTOR. As long as they are logged in on the ABLs site, if they click the JSTOR link, they should be automatically authenticated for access on the site.
